NEW YORK, March 22, 2019 — Emerging Markets CDS trading stood at US$1.822 trillion in 2018, according to a Survey of 12 major dealers released today by EMTA, the EM debt trading and investment industry trade association. This was 40% higher than the US$1.298 trillion reported in 2017, as investors speculated about the health of the Turkish and Argentine economies, as well as elections in countries such as Brazil and Mexico.

Fourth quarter 2018 Emerging Markets CDS trading stood at US$357 billion, according to the report. This was 30% higher than the US$275 billion reported in the fourth quarter of 2017, and 30% below the US$509 billion in reported transactions in the third quarter of 2018.

Mexican CDS slightly surpassed Brazilian contracts in terms of volume in the fourth quarter, with both at approximately US$34 billion. EMTA Survey participants also reported US$25 billion in Turkish CDS (significantly dropping from US$73 billion in the third quarter).

EMTA, with over 180 member firms worldwide, has published its Annual Volume Surveys of Debt Trading since 1992. EMTA began publishing CDS volumes in 2009.

For its survey, EMTA collected data from 12 major international banks and broker-dealers on Emerging Market CDS contracts. The survey is based on notional value of CDS trades and includes rollovers, but not netting trades or internal transfers.
