Sassaia Barolo: "Red Label"

A Garnet red color with a delicately refined bouquet and taste that is reminiscent of violets, macerated red cherries in bitter sweet dark chocolate with hints of liquorice, tobacco, truffles and pepper. On the palate, the wine is full and round, yet austere and elegantly harmonious. The wine undergoes a 3 year aging process in slovenian oak casks followed by bottle aging. Best when served at cellar temperature of 48 to 65F.

Sassaia Gavi "Blue Label" DOCG

This wine is made from vines planted in 1950. Trimmed in the traditional Guyot system, there are 4500 vines per hectare yielding between 70 and 80 (quintali / 100kg) annually. It is produced using exclusive must after soft pneumatic pressing and cold steeping for 48 hours. It is aged for 6 months in temperature controlled stainless steel tanks and bottle aged for an additional 3 to 4 months prior to release. It is straw yellow in color with a floral nose and bright vegetation. On the palate the wine is round with balanced acidity. Those who have had Pinot Grigio and Chardonnay will find this wine to be in between the two as it is medium bodied and very food friendly. Crisp finish. Serve at (45-55F).
