

J.P.Morgan

Managing Director

Global Co-Head Currencies & Emerging Markets

PRANAV THAKUR

Pranav is the Global Co-head of Currencies and Emerging Markets and the head of Fixed Income for Asia Pacific. In this current role, he is responsible for overseeing JPMorgan's Foreign Exchange and Emerging Markets business globally.

Pranav joined JPM in 2007 as head of Fixed Income Trading for North Asia and India. In 2012, he was subsequently made the head of Global Emerging Markets for Asia responsible for overseeing JP Morgan's fixed income and Debt Capital Markets business in Asia ex Japan.

Before joining JPM, Pranav ran Fixed Income Trading for South East Asia at Barclays Capital for 2 years in Singapore. He was a part of the Rates Trading desk at HSBC Mumbai for almost 10 years before moving to Singapore in 2005 with Barclays.

He passed out of business school (IIM Calcutta) in 1995. He was based in Hong Kong for the last nine years with JPM and has recently moved with his family to London.