

Carlos Fernandez-Aller
Managing Director, Global Head of FX and Emerging Markets
Macro Trading

Carlos Fernandez-Aller is Global Head of FX and Emerging Markets Macro Trading at BofA Securities.

In his role he's responsible for the Global Foreign Currency business across both Developed and Emerging Markets as well as all macro products related to Emerging Markets (Rates, options and other derivatives)

Carlos started his career in 1998 at Goldman Sachs where he worked in their London office. He relocated to the Japan office in 2001 to head the Structured Credit and Exotic Trading team. In 2008 relocated to New York where he was head of Latin America Fixed Income and Equity trading as well as head of Americas currency trading. He was named Managing Director in 2006 and partner in 2014. Carlos joined Bank of America in 2020 in his current role.

He holds a Bachelor's degree in Finance and a Bachelor's degree in Law from Universidad Pontificia de Comillas, Madrid.

Carlos is a CFA charter holder and a member of the board of directors of EMPOWER a non for profit organization dedicated to the development of social and educational programs in Emerging Market countries. In 2024 he became member of the New York Fed Foreign Exchange Committee (FXC).